OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, THURSDAY, March 28, 1829.

Through receipts of cattle two weeks ago were upward of 6,000 head. Last week the number was a little above 3,000. This week, as appears by the accompanying report, only 2,800 head had their Sabbath rest and food at Liberty yards. Local reeavy grades are not ready sale at prices." The tone of cattle markets shows a steady improvement since the beginning of March. There has been no boom, and trade is far from

There has been no boom, and trade is far from being on a satisfactory basis. There has, however, been a steady appreciation of values, particularly for smooth, light butcher stock, and the feeling is general among stockmen that trade reached its nadir the first week in March. Since that time it travels slowly, but surely, toward the zenith. A new and better day dawns for the cattle trade.

The principal drawback to the trade now is that farmers who are able to do it are holding back prime heavy cattle from markets on account of low prices. Only those whose necessities force them are pushing stock to the front.

count of low prices. Only those whose necessities force them are pushing stock to the front. This drawback will, it is believed, soon find its relief in higher prices for prime steers. It is not probable that values of these high grades will descend as low for a long time to come as they were at beginning of the month. Future changes are bound to be upward. Sheep and Lambs.

The run is the lightest of the season, and not above one half that of one or two weeks in February. Sales for a number of weeks have been from 7,000 to 10,000 head. This week sales are 5.469 head.

The stock firm already quoted on the cattle situation sends out the following statement to customers on the sheep situation:

"Owing to a very light supply, our market was firm and stronger, except on light and common himbs. But we cannot give our customers any encouragement for the balance of the week, as New York markets still remain very had."

Reports of a Big Failure Abroad Weakens the Whent Market-Corn and Onte Quiet-Hog Products Active and Irregular.

CHICAGO—Trading in wheat was light to-day and the market ruled quiet most of the session. With an increase of 100 head this week there was still a shortage on good light butcher stock weighing 1,100 to 1,200 pounds. On this grade of cattle there was an advance of 10@15c over last week's prices.

There were an unusual number of buyers on hand, more, in fact, than for some months past. The demand for stockers was so strong that a dozen or more loads went off like hot cakes, and many more would have found ready sale.

A leading stock firm sent out the following statement to customers: "With a light display of cattle our market was more active and stronger for the local trade. Eastern markets as yet show no margins for shipment, hence heavy gades are not ready sale a prices."

"Owing to a very light supply, our market was firm and stronger, except on light and common lambs. But we cannot give our customers any encouragement for the balance of the week, as New York markets still remain very bad."

Pittsburg has been a better market this week for mutton on the hoof than New York has been. This has been on of the exceptional weeks, when prices were better here than there for choice wethers. The shippers who took their stock East went further to fare worse.

Hogs.

With returns of the week's transactions all in, it seems that supplies are 4,555 head below last week, and nearly 3,000 less than the week before. The heaviest runs of the winter past were in the last two weeks of January, when receipts were above 32,000 and 34,000. From these figures there has been a drop of 15,006 head ascending to this week's report.

And still markets have not been active. At Chicage yesterday there was a decline of 10c, and in some grades 15c. Advices to day are that there has been a recovery of 5c.

The drift of hog products, particularly mess pork and lard is toward a higher level, but packers claim that there is room for considerable drifting in that direction before a paying basis is reached.

Jay Gould has done more to lower the standard of stock dealing than any other man in the country. He has worked the 'watering' process for all it is worth, and has been bull and bear by turns to hoodwink the public. The fact that his business is known to only a chosen few shows how dangerous it is to handle anything with which he is connected. His methods, I am sorry to say, are being adopted here to a considerable extent to the manifest injury of business. Stocks must be sustained, if sustained at all, by outside support. This can be obtained and held only by honorable, straightforward methods. If stocks were placed upon the market on their merits there would be more customers for them than can be found at present." The cold snap of Wednesday night and the lower temperature since was a blessing in dis-guise. It checked the development of vegeta-tion and rendered it less liable to destruction by the frosts of the early part of April. A few days more of such weather as prevailed last and the early part of the present week would have coaxed leaf and flower from their coverings and subjected them to great danger. Gardners think the change of temperature insures a good crop of early fruits and berries.

Pittsburg business men are hopeful that the present administration at Washington will im-prove the trade relations between this country and foreign nations. One of them said yesterday: "I see that the French Government is making war on the American hog. Heretofore that business has been confined to Germany. They say it is diseased, and that its consumption as food causes scrofula and other hideous diseases. Of course this is all bosh, but the trouble is to convince the people that the meat is perfectly sound and wholesome. The only way out of the difficulty that I can see is to have every article of food exported from this could be done either here or in Europe. In either case it would be a guarantee to the con-sumer. If that wouldn't work I would recomruled out altogether."

Referring to the proposed widening of Dia-mond street, a business man said yesterday: "A strong argument in favor of it is that it would relieve the pressure on Fifth avenue between Smithfield and Market streets, where the people seem to flock by instinct every evenbetween Smithfield and Market streetz, where the people seem to flock by instinct every evening and on nolidays. My business compels me to pass along there every evening between 8 and 9 o'clock, and I always have great difficulty to make my way through the mass of human heings that is always found there about that time. It is worse for women and children. The crowd is so great at times as to suspend street traffic. This is a great annoyance. I think the opening of Diamond street, as proposed, would abate this evil, by giving the people more elbow room. Attractions would be divided between the two thoroughfares. NEW YORK, March 28.-The stock market was in the aggregate more active to-day, but this was due entirely to heavy trading in Reading, the rest of the list being dull and feature-less outside of the few leaders which have of late monopolized the business and interest of the speculation. Everything appeared brighter this morning; London coming higher with 'a reported increased confidence in Americans on the other side and a reduction of the rate of in-terest outside of the Bank of England, the fortnightly settlements both in London and Paris having passed off without a single failure.
